Synopsis:

- Discussed additional features that can be implemented, both for the presentation and afterwards. Discussed what the google api will do for both type of users

Recent Individual Accomplishments:

Jon: Finished the change email/password functionality for both patients and staff.

Alejandro: Solved a IOException bug when trying to implement the calendar to the gui that prevented any progress

Michael Chau: Resolved one of the bugs preventing the google API from properly displaying locally

Alen: Found some errors in back button implementation.

Current Individual Activities:

Jon: Refactoring our login verification process to accommodate both databases.

Michael: Still resolving bugs that are preventing the API from properly displaying on the screen after logging on Alen: Fixing errors in current back button implementation.

Alejandro: Finish the calendar setup and the upcoming date feature

Individual Action Items:

Jon: Begin working on features for the calendar page, such as appointments and prescriptions.

Michael: Google API that properly displays on the screen once logged on and relogging does not break it.

Alen: Fix the errors with the back button implementation and test the corrected code.

Alejandro: Finish the calendar then proceed to implement how the google api will look visually
